Document Identification number	MLSCN/2018/002
Document name	MLSCN Guidelines on Document and Records Retention.
Version number	1.0
Produced by	MLSCN
Effective Date	March, 2018
Review Date	March, 2020
Policy Statement	 The MLSCN Guidelines on Document and Records Retention refers to the retention and destruction of documents and records both in hard copy and electronic media. The purposes of this guideline includes the following: To promote the practice of retention and maintenance of Documents and Records necessary for proper laboratory function and in compliance with applicable national legal requirements and Medical Laboratory – Requirements for Quality and Competence. ISO 15189: 2012 (E), 17025 and 17043. To provide guidance on retrieval and access for documents and records. III. To provide guidance on the disposal of documents and records which no longer need to be retained. It may be appropriate for laboratories to retain records and/or materials for a longer period of time when required for patient care, education, quality improvement, or for sundry needs.
